Head of Science

• Exciting leadership opportunity
• Join a dynamic learning community
• Innovative teaching practice

Redlands is a dynamic, leading Sydney independent school, providing a diverse, co-educational P-12 learning environment with an innovative, flexible and research-based teaching practice. The School is founded in the Anglican tradition, based upon established Christian values.

We are looking for an experienced Science teacher to provide inspirational strategic leadership to a large team of dedicated professionals, comprising eleven teachers and two laboratory staff. They will have vision for Science, the ability to bring out the best in their team and a commitment to furthering the advancement of the Redlands Learning Platform.

Reporting to the Head of Secondary School and the Head of Teaching and Learning, the successful applicant will lead the department in all areas of curriculum and resource management and provide mentoring and coaching to all team members. They will demonstrate exemplary classroom practice with the ability to lead by example. Exceptional expertise in Stage 4-6 curriculum and assessment requirements is essential. Experience in a similar position and IB Diploma Programme experience are also desirable.

The successful applicant will be a strong team player with a collaborative leadership style and excellent interpersonal and communication skills. The role is responsible for the resource management of a substantial budget, requiring skills in sound financial management. Applicants should have a willingness and capacity to actively engage in the extra-curricular life of the school.

This exciting opportunity to join a supportive and engaging work environment that fosters diversity, communication and professional growth.
